Donacarney Schools began in 1873 in the redbrick building (now Community Centre) at the top of the road. This year we are celebrating 150 years of the Donacarney Schools. We are collecting photos from years past taken in either of the three school buildings to create a photo gallery.

If you have a photo which you would like to share with us please send it to the email address below with the names of those in the photograph and the year.
